04 Is my content structure being reused? Live crawl confirmed

LIVE CRAWL CONFIRMED

In 2 response(s) this period, a reverse-DNS verified AI crawler fetched your page and the AI then reproduced your content — a complete evidence chain proving the model drew from your live page, not just prior training data.

No verbatim phrase matches or elevated similarity scores detected in this period. This may indicate paraphrasing rather than direct reproduction, or insufficient page content was available for comparison.

05 Are competitors cited instead? 2 domain(s) identified

The following domains appeared in AI responses to the same prompts used to check your site. These are the sites being cited instead of — or alongside — your content.

DOMAIN CITED BY AI	TIMES CITED
rtings.com	3
soundguys.com	2

Counts reflect appearances across all uncited AI responses in this period. Generic platforms (social media, Wikipedia, search engines) are excluded.

06 What should I do next?

RECOMMENDATION

Based on the data provided, it appears that while AI bots are requesting content from SoundWave Audio, there is no evidence of verbatim phrase matches or high content similarity, suggesting minimal direct content replication. To protect and potentially monetize your content, consider implementing a robust robots.txt file to manage and restrict AI bot access, allowing only those that comply with your terms. Additionally, explore partnerships or licensing agreements with AI developers to ensure compensation for any content used, and regularly monitor AI citations and competitor references to adjust your strategy and maintain your competitive edge.
